

1639

When the English settlers arrived at Newport, Rhode Island they were astonished to find a round stone tower. Probably built by Vikings.

It may still be seen at Newport

Indians knew nothing about the tower

English architects declared that the tower was constructed in same design as towers in Norway before 1200 AD